

The two of us

words/music: Bodo Schaffrath

One of us is riding down to nowhere land, tries to find the money that no one ever earned.
One of us is hiding, there behind the wall, reaching out for freedom, reaching for the sun.

Together we are on our way to heaven.
Together we are on the way from hell.

Two of us are shining like stars up in the sky,
that guide us through the storms and through the night.
Two of us, a river that flows into the sea
two of us: you and me.

One of us is standing solo in the sun, tries to catch the shadow, creeping like a none.
One of us is dancing, tripping into love, covered up with roses and clouds that hide the sun.

Together we are on our way to heaven.
Together we are on the way from hell.

Two of us are shining like stars up in the sky,
that guide us through the storms and through the night.
Two of us, a river that flows into the sea
two of us: you and me.
